Fewer weddings but still a busy year. Our Tower Outing at the end of May was a success and again were joined by friends from Gwennap and Bath. Two of our more experienced ringers retired for personal reasons and are sadly missed. Our two young ringers made excellent progress--one learning Methods and the other Rounds and Call Changes. Visitors are always welcome and several local ringers have helped us out at Weddings and Practices. Their help is much appreciated. Patrick Falco rang another Quarter Peal for Quarter Peal Week and in November, we hosted the Central District Practice. Our year ended with the annual Christmas meal in St. Agnes.

We have slowly added to our numbers this year, now 12 adults and 1 under 18. We have rung for the great majority of services. Usually we can ring 6 or 8 but occasionally only 4. In September we will be having major overhaul of the bells including the bearings that were fitted in 1967 and as far as I can tell have never been serviced since then. We are informed that they should be cleaned out and new seals fitted every 25 years so they are well past their due date. Some improvement to the roping will be done to overcome problems associated with a long draft - 75 ft. New pulley blocks should make the bells less liable to snatching. The bells will be out of service from 3 September until 8th November.

We are fortunate to have several new recruits in Bodmin. Practice nights are well attended and we occasionally manage to ring plain hunt, plain bob minimus and plain bob doubles (if we have an extra visitor) as well as call changes. We also have an active team of hand bell ringers (tune ringing). We ring for Sunday morning worship and of course weddings, funerals and other occasions.

Services here tend to be monthly and we try to ensure that we ring for all of them. We thank our friends for helping out at this popular wedding venue and especially for their help during the flower festival in June. One peal was rung during the year, Stedman doubles on 1st August. We have spent some time cleaning out the belfry and intermediate chamber due to bird ingress. We anticipate an official inspection of the bells and fittings in the near future to ascertain necessary remedial work. Practices here are infrequent as we are usually at Gorran.

2017 was the eleventh consecutive year in which we rang all eight bells for every Sunday Service. We were pleased to welcome three new recruits, all in their teens and making good progress. On Easter Monday we visited four towers in east Cornwall, and in May our coach outing was centred on Exeter. Social events included our annual dinner, a charity murder mystery evening, a car treasure hunt and birthday celebrations, for some of which we rang peals of 500 call-changes. In the Evening League we had a 100% record in the league but were beaten by both Lansallos teams in the knock-out final. However, we came 1st, 2nd and 3rd at a competition at Lansallos in June.

As a band we continue to recognise the importance of both the tradition of call change ringing and (for us) the challenge of method ringing. 2017 started off with a call change performance marking the engagement of Peter Thornton (son of Bob and Juliet) and Claire Glancy. A peal of Grandsire Caters in February by Cornwall ringers (plus one from across the border) was rung in memory of our Northern District friend Andrew Reeves. Four further peals were attempted by visiting bands three being successful with one failing due to a broken treble clapper. November saw some fine call change ringing to welcome our new priest in charge Ann Charlton, with the bells being half muffled immediately afterwards in preparation for Remembrance Sunday. Visitors can always be assured of a warm welcome.

We continue to ring for services with our small but loyal band. Taylors the bellfounders have inspected the bells during the year and recommended a small amount of work is undertaken on the 7th clapper but everything else was found to be in good working order. We were honoured to ring a quarter peal and welcome ringers for general ringing at the interment of Jim Phillips who was born and grew up in the Parish before his distinguished ringing career in and around London. He regularly visited Kea right up to his death and always shared his many memories.

The ringers at Lanivet have had another busy year. They won the Deanery Shield competition, held at Egloshayle, and the Tower hosted the Easter Festival, where our youngest ringer, Rachael Harris, was voted best new young ringer. The team have also qualified for the final of the Eastern Winter Ringing League. As well as attending Tuesday practice evenings the Team have rung at all church services, weddings, a funeral and muffled peals for Remembrance Sunday and for Armistice Day. The Old Year was rung out, and the New Year rung in. The parish outing was to Devon, where the bells of five churches were rung and the non-ringers from the area had an enjoyable day out.

The number of regular ringers continues to decline - we are now down to five. Despite this we have managed to call the faithful to worship on the majority of Sundays and, with the help of friends from other towers, were able to ring for weddings. We hope to continue to ring for Sunday services, weddings, funerals and other special occasions and would welcome new recruits. We practice on the first Monday of each month, led by Philip and Denise Tremain from St. Columb. Our thanks go to them for their efforts in helping us to improve.

Sunday ringing and practices have been maintained throughout 2017, although our numbers remain lower than we should wish. Fortunately we have a number of regular visitors who help us out when they can. Ringers are always welcome at our regular ringing times, although it is always advisable to check before making a special journey in case any events in the Cathedral prevent us from keeping to our normal ringing programme.
