

2018 Quarter Peal Report

There were 119 quarters rung for the TDGR in 2018, a slight increase from 116 in 2017 and stopping the downward trend seen in the last few years. Those quarter peals were rung at 45 venues and by 128 ringers. This is the lowest number of ringers of quarter peals in the last eleven years and the second lowest number of venues, so whilst the total number remains healthy it appears that more quarters are being rung by fewer people and at fewer towers.

Ten quarters and six call change performances were rung during the Quarter Peal Week

The joint leading ringers were Neil and Jane Hitchens with 49 followed by Sam Nankervis (40), Claire Sowden (38) and Carolyn Howell (30). The leading tower was Carbis Bay with 12 quarters followed by Kenwyn (9), St Winnow (8) and Gulval (7). The conducting was shared by 26 people with Jonathan Young (17) and Owen Borlase (13) topping this list.

Congratulations to Bob Thornton, John Atkinson, Geoff Codling, Sue Britchford, Cameron Luke, Melanie Challis, Margot Hartley, Ashley Jones and Paul Elliot for ringing their first quarters in 2018 and to Joanne Barnes for her first as conductor.

The St Dominick-Pillaton band have rung two new Minor methods this year: Weary Friarning Surprise and Who'd Have Thought It Inn Surprise, both somewhat novel as they have only four leads in the plain course. Quarters of Spliced Surprise Major are now rung regularly in the Central, Eastern and Western districts, however quarters of Surprise Royal have decreased to only two in 2018. The first 10-bell quarter was rung at St Winnow and Adam Beer's Black Cynet tour visited in May, ringing quarters at all the 10-bell towers in the county (but not all for the TDGR).

The Hurland Road handbell band have also seen an increase in productivity with regular monthly quarter peal successes.

A large proportion of the Guild took part in the national 'Ringing Remembers' event in November, ringing quarter peals and call change performance. These included Ringing Remembers recruits Chris Davie, Christiana Hancox, Sally Hamlyn, Jonty Hayes and Paul White.
